The Gilliland family of Buncombe county is not the only one that has had to fall back on its "Potigee" blood.

Pugilist James J. Corbett has been made a director of a bank at Bayside, N. J. His part of the job will probably be to handle the bank examiner when he comes in.

"The recent elections signify that the day of bosses is over" exclaims an independent newspaper. Married men are warned not to get it into their heads that the statement above has any reference to domestic affairs.

"Will the Republican party give us reciprocity with Canada?" asks a New England paper. Uhuh, just as soon as Canada raises more oranges than she needs and has enough to spare to exchange for some of our commodities.

We guess the Republican party is willing for the Democratic party to howl against bossism. The Republican party agrees on a leader and one set of principles and wins, while the Democratic party remains absolutely independent and gets left on the third base.

The Weekly Tar Heel (Rep.), Greensboro, refuses to admit that former Senator Marion Butler is a Republican, and wants to know whether "Mr. Marion Butler ever voted the Republican ticket in his life." We are not answering but we will say that circumstantial evidence against him is strong.

The people of the Isle of Pines "stood up as one man," set up a government independent of Cuba and asked the United States to annex the island or recognize its independence. Well, as the Isle of Piners have no canal zone to let us have for any favors, they will have to take the consequences and pine in vain for recognition.

A TILT IN COURT.

The Fayetteville Observer says:

"Yesterday afternoon Iredell Meares, Esq., of Wilmington, and R. E. Lee, Esq., of Lumberton, appeared before Judge Moore in the Cumberland Superior Court and asked for an injunction in two cases, viz: A. H. Slocomb, receiver, vs. the Marietta Lumber Company, and the same vs. the Philadelphia Construction Comapny, the latter a short railroad line on the Carolina and Northern Road. J. G. McCormick, Esq., of Lumberton, appeared in opposition to the granting of the injunctions, and during the course of the argument he and Mr. Meares indulged in some very hot personalities.

"The Judge granted a restraining order in each case for a further hearing of the matter at Lumberton on December 9. The property involved, a saw mill and a small railroad, is valued at about $30,000, and a sale of the property, which is indebted to Mr. Slocomb, was threatened."

METHODISTS OF EAST

North Carolina Conference of M. E. Church, South, at Wilson This Week

BISHOP WILSON PRESIDING

Wilmington to Lose Two Excellent Pastors—Rev. J. Marvin Culbreth to Complete Studies at Vanderbilt—Rev. Geo. B. Webster.

On Wednesday of this week the North Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will convene in annual session at Wilson, continuing through Sunday of next week. The distinguished Bishop A. W. Wilson, of Baltimore, who presided with such eminent satisfaction over the Western North Carolina Conference at Greensboro about ten days ago, will preside over the conference at Wilson and the attendance promises to be quite large as Methodism in the East the past several years has made wonderful strides.

Presiding Elder M. Bradshaw, of the Wilmington District, pastors of all churches in the city and not a few laymen of prominence will attend from here and all are looking forward to an enthusiastic gathering.

The Conference this year will mark the end of the pastorate of two popular Wilmington ministers, the Rev. Geo. B. Webster, of Bladen Street M. E. church, who has served the full four years with that congregation and the Rev. J. Marvin Culbreth, of Market Street M. E. church, who will retire from the ministry for a year to pursue his studies at Vanderbilt University. Rev. Mr. Webster is held in the highest esteem by his people and the people of Wilmington generally. He is a hard-working conscientious pastor, a sympathetic friend and an eloquent preacher. The very best wishes of many friends in this city will go with him and his family to whatever place they are assigned.

Rev. Mr. Culbreth is one of the most brilliant young ministers in the Methodist church of the State to-day and his retirement for a year will be a distinctive loss to the church for that twelve-month. However, upon his return from Vanderbilt, he will be even more strongly fitted for the ministry than ever before and hundreds of friends hope that he may be assigned to a Wilmington pastorate again.

Among the prominent laymen who will attend the conference from the Wilmington churches are ex-Mayor William E. Springer, Mr. W. B. Cooper and Mr. R. V. Leonard.

BOAT HAND DROWNED.

In Canoe on Town Creek, Toppled and Fell Overboard.

George Washington, 20 years old, a boat hand on Capt. A. G. Davis' launch Clifford, was drowned in Town Creek, near The Oaks Plantation, yesterday morning about 9 o'clock. Capt. Davis, his son, Mr. Will Davis, and Mr. George T. Johnson, manager of Mr. Sprunt's place at The Oaks, went down on the launch yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Arriving at the plantation the launch was tied up and the white men of the party went to the house, leaving the negro in charge of the boat. While they were away Washington took a canoe and Mr. Will Davis' gun, going up the river to shoot game. When Capt. Davis and party returned a little later the negro was not in sight and did not answer to repeated shouts for him to come aboard. The party then got into the launch and steamed up the creek. About 200 yards distant the boat was found adrift and later the negro's hat was found in the water. The party, knew by that the negro had been drowned and they searched for the body but it could not be found. The presumption is that he stood up in the boat to shoot at something, lost his balance and went overboard. The gun was not recovered. Capt. Davis and party returned to the city at noon but up until last night nothing had been heard of the negro. His mother at Burgaw was notified.

JOHN HENRY CUNNINGHAM.

An Appeal In His Behalf—Industrial Institution North.

Few Wilmington people but have personal knowledge or have read in the newspapers of the case of young John Henry Cunningham, the little waif, who pursued such a checkered career while he lived in this city up to six months ago, when he was taken in charge by Rev. R. W. Hogue, rector of St. James' parish, and with the co-operation of kind-hearted friends, was sent away to an industrial school North. The boy is now in one of the best institutions of its character in the country and to the delight of everybody who has had occasion to follow the case closely, splendid reports come from him both as to deportment and study. Only six months tuition, board and clothing have been provided for the boy at the institution where he is now, but it is believed that the community will liberally respond to an appeal for the further care and education of the boy. To this end an opportunity is now given to contribute in cash or kind as a Thanksgiving offering to the boy. Contributions may be sent to the Secretary of the Associated Charities or to Capt. Nathan J. Williams, Chief of Police.

Lettuce Shipments.

Lettuce is now going forward from this territory in good quantity and excellent quality. Prices generally are very satisfactory. Mr. D. N. Chadwick shipped a solid refrigerator car from his East Wilmington farm Friday to New York and another to Philadelphia yesterday morning.

The remains will be taken at 10 o'clock on the steamer to Southport where the services will be concluded and the interment made in the family burying grounds. The steamer will return to the city, leaving Southport at 3 P. M., so that persons may attend the burial and get back to the city the same day. Mr. R. M. Wescott, who had been with his son, Mr. Robert D. Wescott, who is in St. Luke's Hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., suffering with a compound fracture of the leg, returned home yesterday. He was arrested by Policeman W. R. Appleberry, who also lodged a charge of carrying a concealed weapon against him. For the latter offence, he was bound to Superior Court.

Holly Grady, charged with breaking into and stealing clothing from a colored man's pressing establishment at Fourth and Harnett streets, was also given preliminary trial yesterday and was bound to Superior Court under bond of $50.

SOUTHERN DISTILLING COMPANY

Attention is called to the large display advertisement of the Wilmington Branch of the Southern Distilling Company, of Cincinnati, Ohio, under the management of Mr. Julius Hahn. The advertisement may be found in another column and the special offerings for Monday and Tuesday will appeal to many.

The Wilmington branch of the Southern Distilling Company is the only exclusive family liquor store in North Carolina and already its business is enormous both by mail order and to the local trade. The line of whiskies, brandies, wines and cordials is the most complete ever carried in a liquor establishment in the South and the holiday business with Mr. Hahn is already becoming brisk.

Funeral in East Wilmington.

The funeral of the little five-year-old son of Prof. and Mrs. George A. Woodward was conducted yesterday afternoon from the family residence in East Wilmington, the Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church officiating. A number of friends were in attendance and the floral tributes were very pretty. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Thorburn Bennett, Charles and Willie Mason and James Wilson. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery.

PERMANENT CAMP

VERY FAVORABLY IMPRESSED

Rifle Range Facilities May Not Be All That is Desired, But Discrepancy is Made Up in Other Striking Advantages.

The committee of North Carolina National Guard officers, commissioned by Governor Glenn to inspect and report upon the most available site as a permanent encampment ground for the State militia, spent yesterday at Wrightsville Sound looking over the magnificent location offered by the city of Wilmington at Summer Rest. The distinguished visitors accompanied by President W. B. Cooper and members of the Board of Directors of the Merchants' Association, Col. T. C. James and other local Guard officers and General Manager Skelding, of the Consolidated Company, left for the Sound on a special car yesterday morning at 9 o'clock and returned in the afternoon about 5 o'clock, leaving for their homes on the evening trains.

Arriving at the station at Wrightsville, the party took carriages over the splendid macadam driveway built this Summer by the County Commissioners and were soon upon the grounds offered. The boundaries, etc. of the property were gone over carefully and the available parade grounds viewed. The gentlemen expressed themselves as very much pleased at what Wilmington had offered but, of course, gave no intimation of their estimate of the relative merits of the sites offered here and at Morehead. The inspection was very thorough and the gentlemen accompanying the officers endeavored to treat with the visitors honestly and squarely.

One of the objections that may queer Wilmington's chances of securing the encampment is said to be a suitable place for a thousand-yard rifle range. A permanent range is reckoned as one of the advantages of a permanent site, and for that reason, the local committee will endeavor before the matter is closed to cure this defect, if, indeed, there be a defect in Wilmington's proposition in this regard.

It is expected that a decision in regard to the permanent camp will be made very soon and Wilmington entertains the strongest hopes of securing it. The gentlemen who came to Wilmington were royally entertained while here, the luncheon at the Cape Fear Club Friday night and an old-fashioned oyster roast at Lumina yesterday having been among the leading features. While in the city the committee was entertained at The Orton.

LIEUTENANT'S SAD EXPERIENCE.

Accompanied Remains of Comrade, Stricken With Appendicitis.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Tarboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—Sergeant Coleman, one of the military escort who accompanied the remains of Lieutenant Howard from Middlesboro, Kentucky, to Tarboro last Wednesday, lies critically ill with appendicitis at the Pittman Sanitarium here. An operation will be performed to-night. Sergeant Coleman, who is just 21 years of age, was Liteutenant Howard's room mate and was with him night and day administering to the comfort of his comrade who was mortally wounded by the accidental discharge of a pistol while their company was at target practice some days before. Coleman is said to have collapsed at the time of Howard's death, so greatly had his constitution been taxed, but possessed of fortitude he braved the journey of 500 miles, covering a period of 36 wearisome hours, and came to pay a last tribute at the tomb of his honored friend. Mr. John Howard, a brother of the deceased, and a corporal under him and Musician Pollite, all of Middleboro, are with the unfortunate man. The Captain and four others of the escort have returned to Kentucky.

Herbert Johnson told very intertainingly "How to Interest and Keep Primary Pupils Busy" and Prof. Catlett spoke of some of the most approved methods of teaching arithmetic. It was officially announced to the teachers that Dec. 22nd. will be observed as North Carolina Day in the public schools.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Sunday Morning, Nov. 26.

HIGH ESTIMATE OF DR. ALDERMAN.

Last Tuesday night the New York Chamber of Commerce gave a dinner at Delmonico's on the occasion of the one hundred and thirty-seventh anniversary of that leading American commercial body. As a matter of course there had to be some speech making, and among those who were on the programme for tongue work, were Dr. Edwin A. Alderman, president of the University of Virginia, Governor Andrew Jackson Montague, of Virginia, General Horace Porter and the Hon. Joseph H. Choate, both distinguished speakers and ex-ambassadors. Among such men, a compliment to Dr. Alderman becomes all the more conspicuous, and it gratifies us to quote from the Brooklyn Eagle this refernce to his speech:

"The ability, the humor and the earnestness of Messrs. Choate and Porter are well known. The patriotic earnestness of Governor Montague is becoming well known to New York audiences. The surprise of the evening to many present was President Alderman of the University of Virginia. He has been heard in Manhattan on the occasions of the Southern Education Board, of which Mr. Robert C. Ogden is the president, but he had not before been heard by the Chamber of Commerce. The official report of ast night's dinner by the Chamber will be made valuable because of the complete reproduction of all these addresses and especially valuable because among those addresses will be that of President Alderman. If he was a surprise, he was also a wonder to those who listened to him for the first time. They made'a great discovery. He is a deep thinker, a superb orator, an earnest optimist, a sincere patriot, a man replete with moral clearness and classic culture, yet alive with the new spirit of education and abreast with the best thought of his time. Wendell Phillips was not more epigrammic, but he was, perhaps, under the necessity of his themes, vindictive, but Dr. Alderman deals with so conditions which call for rancor or indignation or censoriousness. Those who heard him last night for the first time had an experience they will probably never forget. Those who have heard him before were gratified that he confirmed on a great occasion their estimate of him. The favorite orator of the South, he became at once the master speaker and thinker of the most representative Northern assembly of the year."

The compliment from the Eagle, one of the ablest edited of American papers, is peculiarly gratifying to North Carolinians and specially so to Wilmingtonians, for the reason that Dr. Alderman is a native of Wilmington. Our city has always felt a pride in the success and achievements of Dr. Alderman, and it is a pleasure to note that his reputation is growing and his splendid ability is being widely appreciated—even in the North.

North Carolina lent Dr. Alderman to Virginia, and this from the Norfolk Virginian-Pilot, shows that the Old Dominion is also proud of him, particularly as he is the headmaster of her leading educational institution:

"The Eagle's compliment to Dr. Alderman is high, but no doubt richly deserved. To find that he is a 'thinker and orator' may be a new discovery so far as the North is concerned, but it is a discovery made by the South years ago. It is gratifying, nevertheless, to learn that the South's estimate of him is confirmed by the North."

Dr. Alderman's relatives and friends here appreciate it all, and North Carolinians generally will take unction to themselves.

GOOD ROADS FOR DUPLIN, PENDER AND SAMPSON.

The Eastern Carolina News, of Kenansville, as we have previously had occasion to remark, has been doing its best to impress upon the people of Duplin county the importance and value of good roads. This enterprising paper, and a most excellent county paper it is too, cannot do a more commendable work than that of leading its county to take the progressive step towards building highways in all sections of the county, and The Star most earnestly hopes its mission will be crowned with success. Hammering away upon this important subject, the Eastern Carolina News in its issue last Thursday says:

"Why can't Duplin, Pender and Sampson counties come together and work convicts on our public roads? By the three counties combining we could well afford to put guards along for the convicts, whereas neither county can afford this necessary expense alone. These counties have been building good roads for New Hanover long enough and with the present feeling in favor of good roads, there would be no kicks coming by the tax payers of Duplin, Pender and Sampson. As it is now, we do not get one red copper for work of our convicts on New Hanover roads, and by this combination all three counties can get good roads at the same time. It will furthermore pay these counties to hire more labor if necessary in order to push the good roads work at a rapid rate. With our convict labor and the working of roads as we have been, six days in the year, the time is not far distant when we will have good roads in these eastern counties. New Hanover has an ample supply of convicts always and she has acted wisely in building good roads. Crime is not so frequent in Duplin, Sampson and Pender, so it is necessary for all three to come in this forward movement in order to have enough convicts to do the work."

We confess to a peculiar interest in the development of the counties near Wilmington and we woud be glad to see the suggestion of the News adopted by the counties of Duplin, Pender and Sampson, if the practical details of such an arrangement can be satisfactorily agreed upon by the commissioners of the three counties. New Hanover may or may not need the convicts from those counties in its public road work, but it is quite reasonable for our sister counties to desire to make their own convicts a source of profit to them. There are no three better counties in all of North Carolina, and good roads will develop them into what they ought to be—perfect garden spots. We hope their boards of commissioners will accept and act upon the excellent suggestion of the News. We like to see the good work going on.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—After the way those Fayetteville gentlemen were allowed to get out of it a pardon is in order for Mr. Dewey.—Durham Herald.

—Over $1,000,000 have been subscribed in this country for the benefit of the persecuted Jews in Russia. This cause appeals to all humanity, but the greatest part of this sum has been given by Jews themselves.—Columbia Record.

—Director Butler met his crew here last Monday. The "gas gushers" were belching here while the "oil gushers" in the far West were pouring forth their steam of gold from "the fabulous source of wealth."—Greensboro Weekly Tar Heel (Rep.)

—Gov. Glenn is reported to have declared in his speech in Chattanooga, some days ago, that President Roosevelt was "the most respected leader on earth," which statement evoked an outburst of applause. What a change in Gov. Glenn's views of the President since the election.—Raleigh Caucasian (Rep.)

—Charlotte must yield the palm to Wilmington in the matter of the amount of money on deposit with local banks. We published with pride the fact that our banks held exceeding $5,000,000 in deposits, and challenged the other cities of the State to make a better showing. The best Raleigh could do was $2,862,692, but Wilmington comes to the front with a report showing deposits of $6,233,014.05.

—A good example of what hard work and stick-to-itiveness means is given by the example of T. M. Emerson of Wilmington, who was recently promoted to the office of president of the Atlantic Coast Line. The fact that he started with the company as a clerk in the freight office at a salary of $75 per month and is now president of the road tells the story. It speaks volumes for the encouragement of young men who have the will to do.—Charlotte News.

—The public will be sorry, but not surprised, to learn that Miss Alice Roosevelt is ill at her aunt's home in Farmington. Her system, the dispatches inform us, is thoroughly run down, and the doctors have prescribed the rest cure. Miss Roosevelt has sought to emulate on the female side, the "strenuous life" advocated and preached by her distinguished father. She is now paying the penalty of a too ardent devotion to modern ideals of the way women should live.—Brooklyn Citizen.

DANGER AVERTED.

If a man should cross a deadly snake in his pathway, he would quickly crush it beneath his heel before it could sink its poisonous fangs into his flesh. He would not step out of the way and temporize with the dangerous reptile. And yet how many people are there who temporize with a still more deadly enemy—consumption. Like a silent serpent, it glides along almost unnoticed. First a cold, or sore throat, then a slight cough, then catarrh, then bronchitis, then bleeding from the lungs and finally death. The way to crush out the threatening evil is to fortify the system and purify the blood with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Every weakness and abnormal condition that precedes consumption is cured by this non-alcoholic remedy. At the first sign of derangement of stomach, liver and blood, look out! It is only a question of time until the lungs will be attacked through the impure blood, and then the danger will be most deadly.

It should be known to every sick person that Dr. R. V. Pierce will give carefully considered, fatherly, professional advice by mail to all who write him at Buffalo, N. Y. No charge or fee of any nature is asked.

Mr. Moses Horner, of Stahlstown, Penn'a, writes: "Last fall I took a severe cold (the result of wet feet) and this brought on catarrh and bronchitis which lasted all winter. I used three bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two or three vials of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' also one package of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. I am now cured. Many thanks to you."

An honest dealer will not try to persuade you to take a worthless substitute in place of the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the sake of a little added profit.

NERVOUS?

Read This "For five years I was so sick I could hardly walk across the floor, and was very weak and nervous," writes Miss Mattie Slusher, of Cambria, Va., "but after taking Cardui I found myself greatly relieved."

Do you worry about nothing? Startle at trifles? Feel irritable, peevish, sad and blue? Suffer from neuralgia, sick headache, dizziness, backache, bearing-down pains? If so, your nerves are stretched to the snapping point, like the strings of a fiddle twisted up out of tune, which screeches at the least touch. You are in a dangerous condition of health and need a medicine to take the strain off your nerves. If you are a woman, what has overstrung you is probably disordered menstruality, which, in women, makes more trouble, pain and nerve sickness than any other single cause. The thing to do is to follow the example, being set daily by thousands of women, and take the good, old, reliable remedy for female disease, with a record of 70 years of success, in the cure of female diseases, viz:

The Sikh's Five K's.

General Gordon, a British officer who has written a book on the Sikhs, the celebrated fighters of India, says that the signs by which you may know a Sikh are these: He never cuts his hair, but wears his beard looped up over his ears; he never smokes nor touches tobacco, because that is the privilege of the Mohammedan, but he is allowed to drink spirits and is a great consumer of opium. Finally, he must have about his person the five K's, which General Gordon thus enumerates: Kes, long hair of the head, as the Sikh must never cut his hair or beard; kangi, comb to secure the hair tied up in a knot on top of the head; kaceh, breeches reaching to the knee; kard, knife, and kirpan, sword.

An Extra Pair of Lungs.

"I have known aged people, men past eighty, to take their cold baths every morning and be as spry as you please," says Eugene Wood in Everybody's Magazine. "One old fellow used to toddle down to the beach when he had to wade bare legged through the snow two or three blocks. It carried him off at the last, though, for he died just about four weeks before he was eighty-four. And if those of low vitality who ought to take the chill off the bath' were to take it ice cold and rub themselves like sixty afterward I don't think their vitality would be low. I think if they got their blood purified by practically adding another pair of lungs to their outfit they would soon be as chipper as anybody."

POTTERY BY A WOMAN.

Miss M. L. McLaughlin's Remarkable Success In Porcelain.

With the varied and beautiful art pottery that has developed and is being produced in different parts of this country both by potteries and by individuals the public is more or less familiar; but, while it is a matter for national pride and is known and fully acknowledged by artists at home and abroad, comparatively few are acquainted with the interesting fact that an exquisite porcelain is being made in the United States and that from first to last it is the result of a woman's genius.

This ware is a hard paste porcelain called Losanti and is the production of Miss M. Louise McLaughlin of Cincinnati. It is her second triumph in the field of ceramics, for it was she who in

MISS M. LOUISE M'LAUGHLIN.

1877 discovered the secret of underglaze decoration of the Limoges faience and a year lated produced and exhibited at the Paris exposition pieces of true faience with successful underglaze decoration. Her first piece of this ware is now in the Barbee collection of the Pennsylvania Museum of Fine Arts.

One of her finished pieces of this ware and style of decoration, which is called by the French "pate-sur-pate," technically termed "slip" decoration, was made about the year 1880 and is now in the Cincinnati Fine Art museum. It is well known to amateurs under the name of Ali Baba vase and is considered by expert authorities as destined to have a historic value as marking a stage in the development of American ceramics.

In view of this what shall be said of the second achievement of this ardent potter, who, not content with the first glory, plans and accomplishes a greater and far more difficult feat by producing an absolutely new porcelain, the formula for which is the result of her own unaided experiments continued through a number of years?

An authority on art pottery says: "Before definitely fixing the composition of this highly original ware Miss McLaughlin experimented with eighteen different bodies and some forty-five glazes. The recipe now employed gives its maker perfect satisfaction, her work for the future lying in the development of color effects and in the perfecting of details such as translucence, openwork employed in an orginal way, designs with or without inlays of glaze and inlays used in the body. Among these details the one most striking to the lay observer is the openwork, which appears in spots and never in the jacket form, as in the Sevres or in the round perforations of the 'eyelet' china. Miss McLaughlin's openwork effects, like everything to which she touches her hand, are original with her."

It is well for the world and for art that women of means and of leisure should be seized with the spirit of initiative which leads to creations of this character. Here is a woman who has discovered, created and produced.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Who never makes an effort to oblige others and yet expects to be waited on hand and foot herself.

Who never will own that another girl is pretty, but who endeavors instead to find some defect in her to point out to others.

Who never does a stroke of housework, but selfishly indulges in gayety and amusement while her mother slaves to keep affairs in order.

Who never takes any notice of children, but considers them "little nuisances," "plagues," who ought never to leave the nursery.

Who never confesses she is in the wrong, but sticks to her point through everything.

Who never bestows a kind word on those beneath her in position.

Who never, above all, could love or seriously consider the comfort of any other person but herself.—Gentlewoman.

The Day of the Doer.

Time was when "Has Been" was accepted and respected for the sake of what he had done. Not so today.

"Am Now" has introduced himself and is the lion of the hour.

You tell us that your last year's picture was the success of the day. Yes, of that day, but that day is gone. What are you painting now?

The "Will Be" is no more welcome among the world's workers than is the "Has Been."

You may be about to sing a beautiful melody which promises to ring down the ages. Nobody cares. Sing it. The world cannot afford to think about unsung melodies.

Keeping Up Your Courage.

There is first the belief that we are well and capable of continuing so. That is nothing more than faith in our own human powers. It is a faith that every self respecting person should have. Do not abuse the organs of the body, and then there will be no necessity of thinking of them and wondering if they are working all right. By dwelling too much upon some weakness we can always aggravate it through nervous reaction. This in some cases can become such a confirmed habit that serious troubles will be induced. There are many patients in the world today who might be up and around, enjoying good health, if they but willed that they should do so. They are invalids through lack of force of character, for will makes character of one sort or another.—Household Ledger.

In grateful remembrance of whose universal good will toward his comrades this stone is placed here at their expense, as a small testimony of their regard and concern.

The Theatre

All this week including Thanksgiving and Saturday matinees high-class repertoire by the well known National Stock Company will hold the boards at the Academy of Music, the opening bill to-morrow evening being "The Queen of Hearts." The company is said to be presenting a new line of plays by their original title and for which the organization pays a high royalty. Strong vaudeville features are introduced as a specialty between acts and patrons of the theatre may look forward to something good. To-morrow night ladies will be admitted for 15 cents, including a reserved seat. The box sheet is now open at Plummer's.

* * * * *

Next week at the Academy a variety of attractions will be offered. Monday night, December 4th., Prof. Richards, in an interesting demonstration of Liquid Air will be seen as the third number in the Lyceum Course. Prof. Ricards carries a large amount of apparatus and the entertainment furnished by him is said to be not only intersting and entertaining, but highly instructive.

* * * * *

On Tuesday night, December 5th., Archie L. Shepard's Moving Pictures will be seen. The attraction this year is said to be the best of its kind ever put on the road and the company has some excellent press endorsements.

* * * * *

On Wednesday night of next week, the 6th., Black Patti's Troubadours will be the offering. The new blazing budget of mirth and melody this season comprises a new version of "Looney Dreamland," "Southland Scenes," "Pinafore Review" and a vaudeville olio of the usual Black Patti Show standard.

* * * * *

On Saturday night of next week the offering is special in that it will witness the appearance of West & Vokes in a "Pair of Pinks." It is the same organization as was formerly on the road as Ward & Vokes and their reputation is too well known to need commendation here.

* * * * *

The following week two of the biggest attractions of the season will be seen at the Academy—The Beauty Doctor, on the 11th, and the opera production Robin Hood, on the 13th. Both productions will attract very large audiences and the events will be notable.

* * * * *

"Robin Hood," was presented no less than two thousand times while the Bostonians were en tour during a period of over twenty years. This is remarkable when one considers that they had and used a repertoire of dozens of operas. "Robin Hood" throughout the life of the organization known as The Bostonians, always maintained its record as the most popular opera in their repertoire as well as playing to the most phenomenal receipts. This season's tour of "Robin Hood" under the direction of The Aborn Production Company has proven no exception to this rule, as the opera is playing to capacity houses nightly.

Picked With a Purpose.

"Did you ever notice," asked the hotel clerk yesterday, "how many men there are who make it their business to pick little things, such as threads and specks, off your clothes while standing talking to you? Well, sir, there are lots of them, and that picking is a habit with them. They do it unconsciously. No matter how well brushed you are the man with the habit will begin picking at you when he meets you."

"I've noticed them many a time," said a traveling man standing near, "but I have quit letting them pick at my clothes. I once had an experience with one of those fellows that wasn't pleasant. I had known him slightly and chanced to meet him on the street one day. He began picking specks of dirt and such things from my coat, and he kept it up all the time we talked. A couple of minutes after he had left I missed a $200 diamond pin. That cured me of letting people pick things off my clothes. Nowadays I simply ask the man who tries it to desist. If necessary I hold his hands."—Kansas City Times.

Dance Auction Day.

A custom that has existed for some centuries is still maintained in certain towns on the lower Rhine. Early in the year—on auction day—the town crier or clerk calls all the young people together and, having chosen attractive maidens, sells to the highest bidders the privilege of dancing with them, and them only, during the entire year. The fees go into the public poor box.

How She Acted.

Holden—When you asked her to marry you did she hide her face on your shoulder and whisper "Yes?" Tilden—On the contrary, she looked me square in the face and remarked, "Not on your life!" Somehow I got the impression that she wouldn't have me.—Boston Transcript.

Hard Luck.

Mrs. Jones—It's strange that a strong man like you cannot get work. The Tramp—Well, yer see, mum, people wants references from me last employer, an' he's been dead twenty years.

The Easy End.

"How do you make out that you came off better than your accomplice when you were convicted and he acquitted?"

"Because I had only to pay the fine, while he had to pay the lawyer."

There is always hope in a man that actually and honestly works.—Carlyle.

FINDING THE HOPE

[Copyright, 1904, by T. C. McClure.]

The British merchantman Hope had been lost on or near the Kerguelen islands, and I was one of the crew of the bark Rambler, sent out from Sydney, Australia, to pick up information as to her end.

Upon our arrival at the island, after a tedious voyage, the bark was anchored in a sheltered spot and two expeditions sent ashore to search the coast east and west. While they were at work the longboat was to run down the other side of the island and search some of the smaller ones. It was my luck to be detailed with one of the land parties, and, as it was summer time, we had only a couple of muskets and our provisions to carry.

On the third day of the expedition, and when we had made about thirty miles, we came to what looked like a large river. The distance across was about a quarter of a mile and the water very deep. We headed inland for about a mile and then found that our river was but a finger of the sea, stopping short at the base of a range of cliffs. On the rocks and shingle on the east side lay a mass of wreckage. There were pieces of bulwark, an anchor, a broken rudder, a lot of chains and ropes and no end of planks and beams. Eighty rods away was a rude shelter constructed of boards taken from this heap, and in the hut we found several cooking utensils, a sailor's sou'wester, a broken compass and a seaman's chest. One of the boards used in the flooring had belonged to a ship's longboat, and the first thing to greet our eyes as we looked in was the name Hope.

The doomed vessel had driven into the bay with the gale and the tide and gone to pieces on the rocks before she could anchor. The turn of the tide had carried most of the wreckage out to sea, but there was more left than we could have turned over in a day. Just here the ground fell away to the south and was covered with stunted bushes. In searching among them we found two bales of cloth, black and rotten; two cabin stools, a sailor's mess kit and the skeleton of a man, with fragments of cloth still clinging to the bones. It was strange enough that the Hope should have been driven into that narrow bay from the sea with a furious gale raging, but it was stranger yet that any of her crew had lived out the disaster. She was probably dismasted outside, and in being wave swept she lost most of her people, but two of the sailors certainly reached shore and lived on for weeks or months.

As we figured it out they had built the hut in company, and after dwelling together for awhile there was a quarrel and they separated. There were a few empty boxes and barrels to show that provisions had come ashore and been consumed, and there was plenty of fresh water at hand. The wreck had been lifted up to come down with a smash on the jagged rocks and had not held together ten minutes after the first crash. We had found one of the men dead in the bushes where the other had driven him, but if the other was alive he had left the vicinity many weeks before our arrival. It was possible that he had been taken off by some passing vessel, but under the idea that he was still on the island the two parties searched almost every foot of it before giving up. In this long hunt not a trace of the man was found.

It took several days to prove up that the wreckage was the last remains of the Hope, and then we had another look at the skeleton discovered days before. Nobody had wanted to handle the grewsome object, and it had consequently been left lying in the bushes where first seen. Now the bones were straightened out and the clothing searched, and in a tin tobacco box we found a paper of importance.

The man had been fairly educated. In a note written in pencil he stated that the loss of the Hope was owing to a mutiny on board and that he and the leader were the only ones who escaped from the wreck. They had lived together for three months, and then a bitter quarrel arose, and the leader stabbed the other and drove him from the hut. The writer of the note felt that he had been fatally wounded, and he left the writing in hopes that it would some day avenge him. He gave the names of the most prominent mutineers and included his own among them, explaining that all had come through the cruelty of the captain and the mates. He stated that they had some talk of putting to sea on a raft and that now and then a sail had been seen on the horizon, but he had given up hope of getting clear when the quarrel came and made his death certain.

The document was, of course, taken along with us when we set out upon our return voyage, though not a man of us ever expected to set eyes on the surviving mutineer, who was now also a murderer. Strange things happen at sea as well as on land, however. We had made a distance of 500 miles when we overhauled an English whaleship, and the weather being pleasant, the two captains decided to exchange visits. Our boat was manned and rowed away, but it had not yet reached the whaler when one of her crew was seen to leap overboard, and, refusing all assistance, he was soon lost sight of. The incident was full of mystery at first, but we presently got the key to it. The man who committed suicide had been taken off Kerguelen island five months before by the whaler, telling a story that did not compromise him at all, but his guilty conscience was at work all the time, and when our craft overhauled the whaler, coming from that direction, the murderer jumped to the conclusion that we had learned of his whereabouts and come to apprehend him, and he preferred to drown rather than hang.

The Bird's Superior Eye.

The sight of birds is extraordinary, and the simple fact that the eye of a hawk and a pigeon is larger than their whole brain gives some idea of what their powers of sight must be and of how easily they can fly hundreds of miles if they have marks to guide them. Very little attention has yet been given by eye surgeons to the eye of the bird and other animals, from which so much is to be learned.—London Mail.

Soda and Magnesia Lakes.

The soda and magnesia lakes of Wyoming are estimated to cover an area of 1,028 acres. They are found in Albany and Carbon counties and represent the beds of natural basins now nearly dry. The lakes containing sodium sulphate have an area of 708 acres, with an average depth of about five feet, which means a holding of 4,900,000 tons of soda.

My Uncle the Bunko Steerer

[Original.]

I was born on a farm and till I was twenty-three years old had never been to the city. Being of a timid and nervous temperament, what I read of the city made me feel that I didn't want to go there. Items in newspapers of country people being cheated in the shops, robbed, bunkoed, made a deep impression upon me. I determined that if ever I was obliged to visit the city I would turn a deaf ear to all persons claiming to have known me before and keep a tight grip on my pocketbook.

All this was disappointing to my mother. My uncle, Samuel Trask, an old bachelor with a profitable business, lived in the city, and my mother was very desirous that I should cultivate him, but I resolutely declined to leave my home, and my uncle was not likely to come to the country in order that I should become a favorite with him and inherit his money.

However, one day news came of the failure of a greengrocer in town who owed us considerable money for farm produce, and my mother shamed me into going to look out for our interests. I was so reluctant and took so much time in getting off that I was not likely to meet with much success in securing my claim, but my mother was glad to see me depart and would be satisfied with whatever I might do.

Once in town my shyness left me, and I set about the business on which I had come with sufficient energy and adroitness to secure the payment of my claim within a year's time. I had closed the matter up and was sitting in the rotunda of my hotel waiting for a train to take me home when an old gentleman of very respectable appearance walked by me on his way to the office and, seeing me, stopped and looked at me scrutinizingly. Then he came up to me, putting out his hand.

"Well, upon my word," he said, "it seems to me as if I was looking at my brother instead of my nephew. Your father wasn't much older than you when he died, and you look enough like him to be his twin."

I was considerably set up by my business success, so instead of turning on my heel and walking away from a case of bunko I was emboldened to play the steerer for awhile in order to see how he would work me.

"I don't play cards," I remarked.

"Cards? Of course not—that is, not for money," he said, with a puzzled look which I thought was very well assumed. "How did you leave your mother?"

"We'll leave my mother out of the discussion," I replied sharply, for I adored her and it seemed a sacrilege to permit the rascal to drag her in.

"What do you mean?" exclaimed the man. Then, breaking into a smile, he added: "I see. I haven't explained. I've forgotten that you don't know me. I'm your uncle Sam."

Thinking that a request for a loan might follow, I resolved to forestall the man with his own impudence.

"I say, uncle, could you let me have $10 to get home with? I'm a greenhorn from the country and fell into the hands of a sharper this afternoon who took all I had at three card monte."

The old gentleman fired up.

"See, here," he said sharply, "are you not Benjamin Trask?"

"I am."

"Then when I tell you that I am your father's brother what do you mean by such talk? If you have really lost your money, as you say, you are welcome to all you need."

"Very well, I'll take $10."

He looked at me curiously for a moment, then took out his pocketbook, and selecting a $10 bill handed it to me, at the same time informing me that my mother had written him that I would be in town. This satisfied me and I apologized and returned his loan and consented to remain overnight with him. He gave me a fine dinner at a restaurant, with plenty of champagne, after which we went to his rooms, where he produced more wine. I told him what I had done in my deal with the greengrocer and showed him the papers, a check for $200 and notes for $100 more, payable in monthly installments. He commended me for my business ability, and we went to bed.

The next morning I awoke in a dingy room I had never been in before. I heard the puffing of engines, and going to the window discovered that I was near the railroad station at which I had arrived the morning before. All my papers were gone, and what was worse all my money. I dressed and went downstairs to be informed that an old gentleman had left me there the night before.

Well, I telegraphed to my mother for funds, but was almost starved for want of a meal before I received them. I went home, and on entering the house was astonished to see the man who had robbed me sitting in the living room. My mother was with him. His face took on a grin, but my mother, with maternal pity, embraced me sympathetically.

"Don't think hard of me, Ben, my boy," said the man. "I only wanted to show you that if you want to keep clear of city sharps you must turn away from them altogether. You can't monkey with them."

My mother had succeeded in her desire. My uncle took me into his business and I am now his successor and heir. It is to him and not the talk about countrymen being swindled that sharpened my wits and made a business man of me.

ANTHONY HAROLD BARNES.

Two Passengers.

A negro hack driver in Washington was driving along the street when he encountered a funeral. A long line of coaches was behind the hearse, which was moving along at a lively rate. The negro was superstitious and did not want to cross between the carriages in the funeral procession. He tried to drive around in front of the hearse, but could not make sufficient speed. After driving alongside the hearse for two blocks the negro called out to the driver: "Say, boss, hold up an' let me go past. My passenger is in a hurry and yours isn't."

DR. PIERCE'S GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY FOR THE BLOOD, LIVER, LUNGS.

WILMINGTON INDUSTRIALLY.

Carrying out the well defined and established policy of its proprietor, The Morning Star has arranged to publish a series of articles, showing the growth, progress and advantages of Wilmington as a business centre. The object of these articles, and the efforts of the Star, will be to attract trade to this city and to advertise, to the world, the splendid business opportunities and openings in Wilmington, and with a hope of diverting the idle capital of the city to the development of the town by establishing diversified industries, as well as to attract the attention of foreign capital. It is not the intention of The Morning Star to give a "puff" to the individual merchant, but each branch of business, or trade, will be written up as a whole for the benefit of the community at large.

Wilmington is a progressive city. Its physical and material growth is ample justification of this claim, and its commercial expansion is also indisputable evidence of the fact. As a commercial centre and distributing point, this city is, geographically, favorably situated. It is the headquarters of the Atlantic Coast Line with its 4,434 miles of railroads, and is also one of the deep water terminals of the Seaboard Air Line. With five railroads, ocean steamship lines, both coastwise and foreign, six or more steamboat lines plying on the upper Cape Fear and Black rivers, steamboat lines to near by coast points, a Clearing House, and eight banks with ample capital for the mercantile interest, and with deposits of $6,233,000, there seems to be no adequate reasons why Wilmington should not progress at a pace commensurate with the conservative methods of the men of affairs who have, in a measure, control of its financial and commercial prosperity.

The Star does not wish to convey the idea that Wilmington has a "boom," but rather to emphasize the fact that its progress and prosperity is a steady healthy growth, of the kind which has come to stay.

That most excellent organization, the Chamber of Comerce, is an important factor in the upbuilding and developing of the city as a wholesale market, and their efforts have brought about some radical changes of late which have added largely to our commercial importance.

It is our purpose to write an article on every line of business, each in its turn, which is a factor in the trade of the town. For the first article we have selected the Cotton Trade of the port, but can only give partial facts and figures, to be supplemented in a later issue.

In these days of large figures, one is so accustomed to speak lightly of thousands, and even of millions, that we hardly realize or appreciate what thousands and millions are or what they represent, or the energy and thought which is required to handle successfully any large enterprise requiring the use of them.

The receipts of cotton at this port for the last cotton season were 350,000 bales, the estimated value of which is $2,000,000. Most of the receipts were for export, and to handle them fifty large steamships of an average tonnage capacity of 13,000 bales each, were employed, taking their valuable cargoes to the large milling centres of Great Britain and the Continent.

The house of Alexander Sprunt & Son, under the able direction of Mr. James Sprunt and his brother, Mr. William H. Sprunt, is the leading factor in the export of the staple at this port. The firm is will prepared to handle its large business, which has of necessity been reduced to a science; and every detail of which is conducted with almost mathematical precision. Their facilities are unsurpassed, and this claim is made without fear of successful contradiction. The three Champion compresses constitute the best and most convenient up-to-date plant in the United States.

What does this plant, and the Sprunt's cotton interest mean to Wilmington? Have you thought of the importance of it to this port, and the amount of capital required to operate it? To handle the cotton, from 500 to 700 laborers are employed and the average weekly pay-rolls amount to $10,000, or $50,000 per month. Of this $50,000 all or nearly all is spent by the laborers in this city and goes direct to the retail stores for the necessities and comforts of life. The clerical force of the firm numbers thirty experienced men who reside here, and to get the large amount of cotton the Messrs. Sprunt have buyers all over North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia, buying the staple in many instances at the very doors of Charleston and Savannah.

The system or method of handling export cotton at this port differs very materially from that employed in some of the South Atlantic seaports, inasmuch as every bale of cotton exported from Wilmington is actually handled and compressed here, while at some ports whose receipts show up larger than those of Wilmington. A large part of the cotton is compressed in the interior and simply unloaded from the cars to the ship, which is of no more benefit to the town, except to theoretically swell the receipts, than if it passed through the city in a through freight train.

There is no reliable way to ascertain how much money is spent in this city by the steamships docked at the Champion compresses, or the amounts put in circulation by the crews of the ships, though this is by no means an inconsiderable sum.

It may not be generally known, but it is a fact, nevertheless, that Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son are the largest individual exporters of cotton in the United States. The firm conducts its very large business along conservative lines, and without ostentation, working for the welfare, whenever consistent, of this, their native town, taking for their guidance the motto of their native State, "Esse Quam Videri." THRILLING ESCAPE OF GIRLS.

Twenty-five Safely Caught in Nets by Firemen.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Lawrence, Mass., Nov. 22.—All but one of 400 girls attending the parochial school of Stann's parish, whose lives were endangered by fire in the building today, escaped without injury although twenty-five of them were caught in nets by firemen as they were dropped from a third story window by a teacher. Rena Drouin, 12 years old, was taken to a hospital suffering from the effects of fright and inhaling smoke. It is thought that she will recover. All the pupils except those on the third floor who escaped by means of a net marched out of the building in good order when the alarm was given. The fire was caused by an overheated furnace. Sister Mary, one of the teachers, and her 25 pupils who were on the third floor, could not get down the stairs on account of the dense smoke. The teacher led the children to the window beneath which the firemen stretched a net. Under the sister's direction the girls climbed out over the sill and one by one were assisted to drop and were caught safely in the apparatus held by the firemen. After the last child had been cared for, Sister Mary herself reached the street by means of a ladder. The damage to the building was slight.

RECEIVED PRESENT OF $10,000.

Dr. Jones, of Memphis Board of Health, Rewarded.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 23.—Dr. Heber Jones, president of the Memphis Board of Health, was to-day presented with a purse of $10,000 subscribed by a large number of citizens, in appreciation of his successful efforts in maintaining a prohibitive quarantine during the recent yellow fever epidemic. It was generally understood that Dr. Jones was compelled to forego a large private practice by the exacting duties of his office.

WAR ON TURKEY BY POWERS.

International Fleet Has Sailed to Coerce the Porte

By Cable to The Morning Star.

London, Nov. 23.—The persistent refusal of the Turkish government to accept European control of the revenues of the Vilayets of Macedonia, notwithstanding the ultimatum presented by the allied powers, is about to lead to the putting into operation of the threat of a naval demonstration with the view of compelling the acquiesence of Turkey in the European control of the administration of and the proposed reforms in Macedonia.

The obduracy of the Sultan apparently is based on the belief that he has the passive support of the Emperor of Germany and upon the jealousies supposed to exist among the powers interested.

In diplomatic quarters it had been supposed to the very last that the Sultan would yield, and even now it is expected that he will do so before the international fleet takes active measures. It is understood that the Sultan appealed vainly to Emperor William, Emperor Nicholas and Emperor Francis-Joseph against the projected demonstration.

The combined fleet of the powers now assembling at Piraeus consists of six large and four small vessels, commanded by Admiral Ritter von Jedina, of the Austrian navy. Great Britain is represented by the armored cruiser Lancaster and the scout ship Sentinel, Austria by the cruiser St. George and the torpedo cruiser Sziget var, Italy by the armored cruiser Giuseppe Garibaldi and the torpedo boat destroyer Ostro, and France by a cruiser and a gunboat. Germany's abstention from participation in the proposed demonstration makes the situation increasingly interesting. The powers are said to have agreed, as the first part of their procedure, on the seizure of the harbors and custom houses of the island of Mytilene, the island of Limnos, in the northern part of the Aegean sea, and the island of Tenedos, on the West Coast of Asia Minor.

The fact that all the ministers except the minister of war favored yielding to the ultimatum leads to the belief that the Sultan will yield at the first show of determination on the part of the powers, after satisfying his people that he is yielding to superior force. This is said to be the view of Coun Goluckowski, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs.

Vienna, November 23.—Baron von Calice the Austro-Hungarian ambassador at Constatinople, has telegraphed Admiral Ritter von Jedine for a portion of the international fleet to sail immediately proceeding either to Mytilene (an island of the Grecian archipelago belonging to Turkey, in Asia, or for Besika bay (near the entrance of the Dardanelles).

Athens, Nov. 23.—It is understood that the international fleet will sail tomorrow. The foreign ministers to lay paid visits to the commanders of the warships of their respective countries. The commanders later held a conference on board the Austrian flagship.

WAR SHIPS HAVE EFFECT.

President Castro Inclined to Apologize to France.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Parish, Nov. 22.—Inquiry at the foreign office to day brought out the statement that the report that France accedes to President Castro's request to indicate what portions of the Venezuelan note to M. Tagnay, the French Charge d'Affaires, are offensive, is incorrect. The officials say the President has heretofore been completely informed regarding the offensive features of the note and therefore the report that France will give further explanations is characterized as "bluff intended to delay and confuse the situation."

Washington, Nov. 22.—With the French warships at Martinique, a day's cruise from Venezuelan waters, President Castro has begun to show signs of a possible intention to modify his attitude toward the French government so far as diplomatic relations between the two countries is concerned. Secretary Root is not yet in a position to make a formal announcement on the subject but the tenor of the dispatches received thus far from Mr. Russell, the American minister at Caracas, is that President Castro seems now inclined to be responsive.

CUBAN PLOTTERS CAPTURED.

Arms and Men Seized in Police Raid in Cuba.

By Wire to The Morning Star

Havana, Nov. 22.—Sixty Remington rifles were seized by the police last night in a raid on a house near San Juan de Martinez, province of Pinar del Rio, in which 50 anti-government plotters were meeting. A dozen of the latter were captured. Colonel Julian Cruz, a prominent citizen of Pinar del Rio and at present in Havana, has been arrested in connection with the anti-government movement and will be taken to Pinar del Rio for trial.

Tickets to Foot-Ball Game in Norfolk, Va.

There seems to be some impression that grand-stand tickets to above game, which are on sale at our Charlotte, Wilmington, Raleigh, Durham and Henderson offices, will not be sold to people who patronize the Seaboard Air Line to Norfolk. This is a mistake, as the tickets will be sold to any one. We simply selling them in North Carolina for the Lafayette Field Association.

These tickets will be returned to Norfolk on the 20th and it is certainly to the interest of those who expect to attend the game, to purchase their tickets prior to this time, as the indications point to a record-breaking crowd and those who delay getting seats will be put to considerable trouble in getting them if they wait until arrival at Norfolk.

WOMAN'S BODY FOUND IN TRUNK

Husband Probably Murdered Her and Made His Escape.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23.—What appears to be a murder committed nearly two weeks ago and peculiarly ghastly in its details, was discovered here, this afternoon, when the badly decomposed body of Mrs. John Hammond was found wedged in a trunk in a second story room of her home. The trunk stood in the fire place and the body within was heavily sprinkled with chloride of lime. The disinfectant was strewn about the three rooms comprising the flat and the cover of the trunk was propped open with the evident idea of having the odors of decomposition escape up the chimney. John Hammond, the woman's husband, has not been seen for nearly two weeks. He is 25 years of age, a cabinet maker. The dead woman was 57. Whether the woman died a natural death, or was strangled or poisoned, remains for an autopsy to disclose. There were no evident marks of violence on the body, which, when found was fully clothed, excepting shoes, and was doubled up in a sitting posture, with the face down upon the knees. The body was bound in this position with a clothes line around it. Disagreeable odors all day to-day drew the attention of the first floor family to the Hammond rooms, whence not a sound had been heard for at least ten days, and late this afternoon the police broe down the door and discovered the body.

—Madge—And did he break the ice last night? Maud—Break the ice? Why, I thought at one time that he was going to break every one of my ribs!—Yonkers Statesman.

Three Men Charged With Murder to Get Insurance.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 22.—In Chihuahua last evening Judge Rios sentenced C. T. Richardson, C. S. Harle and William Mason, Americans, to be shot. The men were accused of murdering two men in Chihuahua for life insurance money. Richardson was an insurance agent, Mason, his brother-in-law, the assistant agent, and Harle was the examining physician. It was charged that they murdered a man named Devers, whom they decoyed from El Paso and another man named Mitchell, who is said to be a half brother of Mason. Richardson is from Rochester, N. MOBILE CHAFES AT QUARANTINE

Wants Cuba to Remove Unreasonable Regulations.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Mobile, Ala., Nov. 22.—The quarantine board of Mobile Bay met today, settled all quarantine bills and lifted all quarantines including that against Cuba, but must still regard the treasury regulations with regard to Cuba. The following telegram was sent to Surgeon General Wyman in Washington:

"The quarantine board of Mobile Bay respectfully asks you to urge upon the Cuban authorities the removal of all unjust and absurd quarantines now maintained by them against Mobile."

—"Why don't you do something philanthropic?" "I'm afraid to," answered Senator Sorghum. "If I show that I have any money beyond my actual needs somebody will be asking where I got it."—Washington Star.

The comfortable home being erected for Mr. R. R. Stone on the northeast corner of Sixth and Orange streets, is nearing completion and adds much to the attractiveness of the neighborhood. The entire frame of this handsome house is of cypress, and in this respect, is different from any other residence in the city.

Col. and Mrs. Cotton, and Mrs. Cotton's daughters, the Misses Latimer, will not return to Wilmington quite as early this season as usual, as Mrs. Cotton prefers to remain near her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Latimer, who is at a finishing school in New York. It was a most enjoyable affair, the Sorosis Bazaar, which was given the past week by that band of self-sacrificing ladies who are doing so much to establish a free library for the education of the masses. There is hardly a more deserving public movement than that for which these ladies are laboring, and we trust their efforts will meet with the success they so justly deserve.

Mr. and Mrs. McRee Hatch returned to the city yesterday and are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Washington Catlett, on Orange street, where they will be pleased to receive their friends. Upon their return they found awaiting them a very handsome case, in leather, of silver, neatly engraved, a wedding gift from the Wilmington Light Infantry, of which Mr. Hatch is a popular and valued officer.

An event of philantrophic as well as of social interest will be a Basket Tea and reception which will be given at the James Walker Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, December 5th. Competent and energetic committees, composed of some of the most prominent ladies of the city have been appointed and everything possible will be done to make the reception the most enjoyable public function of the season. Donations will, of course, be received and expected, and it is hoped these will be commensurate with the labor of love of the noble and self-sacrificing women who are devoting so much of their time for the alleviation of the suffering, as well as to encourage the Directors who are giving so much of their time and means to make this worthy charity second to none of its size in the country.

The Jones residence at "Airlie" is being overhauled and renovated preparatory to a season's gaities of unusual brilliancy and splendor. The most noticeable improvement to the handsome home is an extensive portecochere of the Grecian style of architecture. The "T" house in the northern end of the vast estate, where oysters are roasted with cedar and moss, and served in real, old ante-bellum Southern style, which gave to the Sounds their charm of hospitality and more than local fame, has had many conveniences added and the exterior beautified. Mr. and Mrs. Pembroke Jones, Miss Jones and their immediate household are expected to arrive just before the Christmas holidays, but following their usual custom, will have no guests, for Christmas day, except a few intimate friends of this city. After Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. Jones will entertain several house parties, made up of some of the most prominent and well known society people of Newport and New York.

Mrs. Paul Gilmore has many warm personal friends in this city and in Raleigh. When a girl, she attended a fashionable finishing school, where she formed the acquaintance and friendship of several young women of this State. Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore were entertained last Monday by Mrs. Preston L. Bridgers, and in the evening, Mrs. Gilmore gave a box party to Mrs. Bridgers and a few of her guests. It is a pretty little love story which united their lives and is told by Mrs. Gilmore to her intimate friends. When Mr. Gilmore went on the stage, her parents objected to her marrying the young and almost unknown actor, whose star was just peeping over the horizon of fame. She was sent West, under promise not to communicate with him, in hopes the young couple would "find their mistake." Mr. Gilmore's itineracy took him near the place where his fiance was stopping. She wrote an anonymous, "rapturous, matinee-idol-girl letter," requesting the young actor to meet her at the stage door after the performance, and to assure her he would comply, to wear in the minuet scene, a very handsome lace handkerchief which was sent for the purpose. Mr. Gilmore's associates employed every argument to persuade him to use the elegant piece of lace, which would add so much to his rather inadequate costume. To his credit, he was true to his love, his vows and his honor; he did not carry the handkerchief. After the performance, a lady, heavily cloaked and hooded, met Mr. Gilmore at the stage door, and hastily throwing aside the disguise, the woman of his love stood before him. The episode of the handkerchief brushed away the opposition of the parents and gained their cheerful consent. Mrs. Gilmore is not one of the cast of her husband's company, but usually accompanies him on his tours.

Herpicide Produces Marvelous Results

Newbro's Herpicide

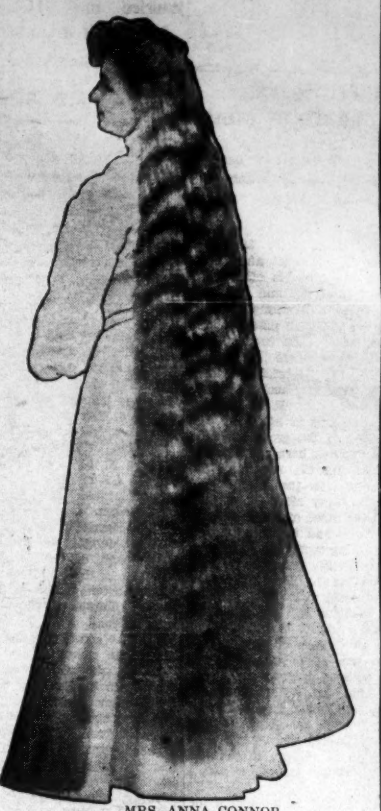
The Herpicide Company.
Detroit, Mich.

I am sending you my photograph to show what Newbro's Herpicide has done for me. Since I first tested it thoroughly on my own hair. I have used it exclusively in giving scalp treatments, and with wonderful success. I would not think of trying to get along without it.

Yours sincerely,
MRS. ANNA CONNOR.
Hair and scalp specialist.
No. 2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Illinois.



MRS. ANNA CONNOR,
2807 Archer Ave., Chicago, Ill.

The natural beauty and abundance of this lady's hair is a striking illustration of what Herpicide will accomplish, and this is only one of the thousands of letters that the Herpicide Company have on file from people all over the world who are pleased to tell of the marvelous results obtained by the use of Herpicide.

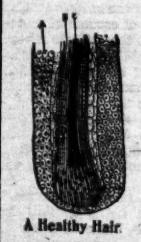
NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Known throughout the world as "the original remedy that kills the dandruff germ." Herpicide is a new, scientific nonirritant germicide and prophylactic for the scalp—and positively cures dandruff, stops falling hair and prevents baldness. No one wants to lose their hair and it is a mighty serious matter to contemplate. Well, why trifle with unknown or so-called Hair-Growers, when you are absolutely guaranteed that Herpicide will not only save what hair you have, but will restore it to its natural luxuriance. It is the dandruff germ, which infests the scalp, that causes the hair to fall out. Herpicide will eradicate this microbic disease of the scalp and protect it against reinfection, and your hair will then grow as nature intended. NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE has reached the pinnacle of fame as a hair preparation and enjoys a distinction strictly its own. As a Hair Dressing—Herpicide is truly exquisite on account of its dainty and refreshing odor which is characteristic—it beautifies the hair and leaves it soft, glossy, light and fluffy—it contains no oil, grease or sedimentary substance neither does it stain nor dye the hair.



A Healthy Hair.

DANDRUFF IS AN ACTUAL DISEASE and a very serious one, for it leads sooner or later to chronic baldness, which is incurable—the disease must be treated in a thoughtful, persistent and scientifice manner. The dandruff germ must be destroyed and kept out of the scalp with NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE, because it is the only remedy that will actually kill the dandruff germ.

An Unhealthy Hair.

Stops Itching of the Scalp Almost Instantly.

Destroy the cause—you remove the effect.

CURE YOUR KIDNEYS.

Why will people continue to suffer the agonies of kidney complaint, backache, urinary disorders, lameness, headaches, languor, why allow themselves to become chronic invalids, when a certain cure is offered them?

Doan's Kidney Pills is the remedy to use, because it gives to the kidneys the help they need to perform their work.

If you have any, even one, of the sympotoms of knidney diseases, cure yourself now, before diabetes, dropsy or Bright's disease sets in. Read this Wilmington testimony:

B. R. King, the well-known policeman, residing at 706 Wooster street, says: "I had terrible pain in my back which worked around to my side and in my stomach, so bad at times that it laid me up. I used internal medicines and they did not help me. I put on plasters and rubbed with liniment, and none of them helped me at all. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills recommended I got a box of them at Bellamy's drug store. The next day after commencing to use them I noticed relief. Since using two boxes of them I have not had an ache or a pain in my back. It is with pleasure that I add my name to those endorsing the claims made for this remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New oYrk, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is donig wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

PROMINENT PHYSICIAN KILLED BY WOMAN

Was Wife of Dentist and Scandal Was Cause of Tragedy—Murderess Attempted Suicide.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Monticello, Miss., Nov. 25.—Mrs. James Birdsong who shot and killed Dr. Thomas Butler at his office here this morning is in jail and her husband, Dr. Thomas Birdsong, a well known dentist, has been placed under arest as accessory. An inquest was held this afternoon before Justice Jno. W. Steen but it was brief. Neither Mrs. Birdsong was her husband would make any statement. It is believed that Mrs. Birdsong in her trial will set up slander as the ground for the killing, there having been considerable gossip connecting the names of the two for some days past.

On last Thursday after the woman had visited the office of the dead man she went home and tried to commit suicide by taking morphine but physicians were hastily summoned and her life was saved. She was in bed all day yesterday but this morning after her husband left for his office she got up, secured his pistol and walked to the office of Dr. Butler. The doctor was alone when she entered and without a word she began to fire on him. Dr. Butler retreated, the second shot being fired while he was going through the door. He fell to the sidewalk and the woman fired three more shots at him, two of the woman's bullets penetrated the man's heart.

The dead doctor is a nephew of former Governor Longino, of Jackson, who wil come here Monday to take part in the preliminary trial which is set for that date. Dr. Birdsong has engaged Hon. R. N. Miller, of Hazelhurst, a noted criminal lawyer, to defend him. Dr. Butler leaves a widow and four children.

SEANTOR BURTON CONVICTED.

Found Guilty on Six Counts—Sentence on Monday.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

St. Louis, Nov. 26.—United States Senator J. Ralph Burton, of Kansas, this morning was found guilty by a jury in the United States Circuit Court on all six counts against him, charging that the Senator practiced before the Postoffice Department at Washington while a United States Senator to prevent the issuance of a fraud order against the Rialto Grain and Securities Company of St. Louis. The jury was out only two hours. This is the second trial of Senator Burton on similar charges. The present allegation charges the Senator with making the agreement to practice before the Postoffice Department in St. Louis and with taking money for the work also in St. Louis. The Senator was found guilty in the previous trial, but the verdict was reversed by the Supreme Court, because it was proved only that compensation was paid to Burton in Washington, outside the jurisdiction of the trial court.

Senator Burton was ordered to appear in court at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, when his counsel announced a bill of exception would be presented, and an appeal asked for. Court then adjourned.

All the time the jury was out, Burton paced the court-room with long, even strides. At 12:40 o'clock the jury said an agreement had been reached. Judge VanDeVanter took the bench. Senator Burton took his accustomed seat at the table with his counsel. His features were set, but expressed no visible sign of emotion from the time the jury entered the room until the verdict had been read.

Senator Burton accompanied by his counsel, went to his hotel. The Senator was permitted by the marshal to have his freedom on the promise of his counsel to produce him in court next Monday.

PORTUGESE BLOOD, NOT NEGRO

End of Sensational Court Case at Asheville.

By Wire to The Morning Star

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 25.—After being out only fifteen minutes, the jury in the case of the six Gilliland children against the board of education of Buncombe county, which has been on trial in the Superior Court here for the past four days, this afternoon returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. The children were seeking to established their right to attend the white public schools of the county, from which they were excluded by the school board on account of alleged negro blood in their veins. The plaintiffs contended that their ancestors (said to have been a negro by the defendants) was of Portuguese extraction. The case excited the greatest interest as the descendants of the alleged negro have intermarried with a large number of the leading families of the county.

OLD NICK WILLIAMS TRIAL.

Case Has Consumed Five Weeks—Goes to Jury Monday.

By Wire to The Morning Star

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 25.—The Old Nick Williams Distillery Company case still hangs fire, after having rounded out its five weeks of existence today. At 5 o'clock District Attorney Holton, having just completed a most stirring argument, Judge Boyd said that if the jury preferred he would deliver his charge, which would take about two hours, after supper. Several jurors indicated that they would prefer having a rest, and the delivery of the charge was postponed until the morning session Monday. Seldom have two greater, or more entertaining arguments been heard than those made by Mr. Cansler and Mr. Holton. Mr. Holton spoke for three hours and thirty-five minutes.

AWFUL ACCIDENT TO AUTO PARTY

Whirled Into Ditch on Long Island and Mrs. Burton Harrison Killed

NECK BROKEN BY MACHINE

Unfortunate Lady Was Worth Millions of Dollars and Husband Was Former Congressman—Father Jeff Davis' Secretary.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, wife of former Congressman Francis Burton Harrisson, of New York, was killed today by the overturning of an automobile in which she was riding with a party of friends from San Francisco. The car was running down a steep hill in Long Island City when a break in the steering gear caused the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Laurence I. Scott, of San Francisco, and Charles T. Crocker, also of San Francisco, a student and a brother of Mrs. Harrison, were injured. All of the party were more or less injured. Mrs. Harrison's neck was broken.

Mrs. Harrison was Miss Mary Crocker, daughter of the late Charles F. Crocker, of San Francisco. She was one of three children who divided the fortune of between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000 left by her father. Her husband, Francis Burton Harrison, is the son of Mrs. Burton N. Harrison, the novelist, and Burton N. Harrison who was secretary to President Jefferson Davis of the Southern Confederacy during the Civil War.

It was about noon when the accident occurred. Mrs. Scott, of San Francisco, told the details of how the merry party in the midst of laughter from Mrs. Harrison were, without warning, wheeled sharply from the road and thrown into a ditch, two of them rendered unconscious and pinned under the heavy machine. The automobile had just started down what is known as Thompson's Hill. This place is a favorite speedway for automobiles. As the car began to glide swiftly down Mr. Scott and Mr. Crocker were examining a road map, while Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Scott were talking together and laughing. The chauffeur, Mrs. Scott said afterwards, turned about in his seat and remarked that something was wrong with the steering gear.

The next instant the machine swerved sharply. The chauffuer's frantic efforts to guide it back into the road were fruitless and the car plunged toward a ditch at the side of the road with a telegraph pole looming directly in its course. It struck the pole a glancing blow and then toppled into the ditch. Mrs. Harrison was thrown under the machine, her head pinned down by the heavy machine. She was unconscious and it was afterwards found that her neck had been broken. Beside her, also pinned down by the car, was her brother, but he was not severely injured and was able to free himself from the car. The other three, Mrs. Scott, Mr. Scott and the chauffeur, had been thrown clear of the machine. Mrs. Scott was hurled across the ditch, landing ten feet beyond the machine and lay unconscious where she struck. Her unable although still conscious was unable to move for some time. The chauffeur also, like the other members of the party, was stunned.

No one was near the point where the accident occurred, the road being almost deserted at the time. The first persons to realize the terrible situation were Mr. Crocker and the chauffeur who tried to free Mrs. Harrison and found that they could not lift the machine. Mr. Scott with a broken rib also joined them but still the machine pressed upon the unconscious woman. Mrs. Scott had by this time been restored to consciousness and it was decided to send for help.

Assistance, however, was already coming, two farm hands having seen the accident and run across the fields. Another automobile came along about the same time, and the men were able to arise the machine. Mrs. Harrison was dying when her friends lifted her up. She was hurried to St. John Hospital in Long Island City but she died before reaching the hospital. Later an ambulance was sent for Mr. and Mrs. Scott, who, after treatment at the same hospital, were able to return to New York in a carriage.

Mr. Harrison was at his office in New York when first informed of the accident and was told that his wife had been severely injured. He did not know of her death until he called at St. Johns Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison were married in 190. At the last gubernatorial election in New York Mr. Harrison was the Democratic candidate for the office of Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Crocker left New Haven yesterday to come to New York for the automobile party.

An explanation of the accident, throwing the blame upon sandy roads instead of broken steerage gear, was given tonight by E. B. Gallagher, proprietor of the garage where the Harrison automobile was kept. The garage tonight after an examination showed that a tire had burst and failed to reveal any difficulty with the steering gear.

Mrs. Harrison will be buried in the private plot of the Crockers in Cypress Lawn Cemetery near San Francisco.

PEACE RATIFICATION PASSED.

Russia and Japan Representatives at Washington Do Last Act.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, Nov. 25.—Without formality, the final chapter in the bloody war between Russia and Japan was enacted in the diplomatic room of the State Department this afternoon when at five minutes past 4 o'clock Baron Rosen, the Russian ambassador, and Mr. Takahira, the Japanese minister, on behalf of their respective sovereigns exchanged ratifications of the treaty of Portsmouth which was signed September 5th last. The only witnesses were Prince Kudacheff, the secretary of the Russian ambassador, and Mr. Hioki, counsellor and first secretary of the Japanese legation. The exchange of ratifications was a formality, the treaty having become effective on the day it was ratified by the Russian and Japanese Emperors.

THE COURT MARTIAL AT NAVAL ACADEMY

Evidence That Midshipman Branch Was Vindictive Toward Midshipman Meriwether.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 25.—To-day's session of the court-martial which is trying Midshipman Meriwether in connection with the death, after a fight, of Midshipman James R. Branch, Jr., was largely occupied with the testimony of class mates of the accused and members of the first-class of the Naval Academy. The evidence was intended by the defence to show that Branch harbored animosity against Meriwether and persecuted him and also that the existence of the practice of fighting was known to and in a manner connived at by high officials of the Naval Academy. Prominent officers of the Navy mentioned in this connection were Admiral Willard H. Brownson, now commanding the cruiser division of the North Atlantic fleet and who was the predecessor of Admiral James H. Sands as superintendent of the Naval Academy, Captain Charles J. Badger, who was succeeded as commandant of midshipmen by the present commandant, Captain G. P. Colvocoresses and Commander C. E. Colahan (deceased) who preceeded Captain Badger in the same office. It was testified that Admiral Brownson, while superintendent of the academy, had promised that, in consideration of the abolition of hazing, there would be no investigation of fights sanctioned by the first-class.

One of the important developments of the day was the ordering by the Secretary of the Navy of the disinterment of Branch's body for the purpose of holding an autopsy. The body will be exhumed to-morrow morning.

The Judge Advocate announced that Surgeon Charles H. Stokes had been detailed by the Navy Department to assist in the prosecution. This action was on account of the importance of the medical question involved.

Midshipman E. C. Corstein, of the first class, for the defense testified that at the end of last term, while on duty, he had reported Meriwether for a breach of regulations. Branch had manifested great interest in seeing that the report was made.

Lieutenant Commander H. J. Siegemeier testified that as an executive officer of the Hartford he had received a report from Midshipman Branch against Meriwether "for general disorder, insubordination, and not turning in promptly on being ordered by Branch while on duty." The witness found that the charge of not turning in promptly was the only one sustained. He considered that there was personal feeling between the two.

Midshipman William T. Page, a classmate of Meriwether, testified in regard to the report which Branch had made against Meriwether on the Hartford. He said Branch charged Meriwether with having told him to "go to hell." Meriwether was the only one reported by Branch.

The court adjourned until Monday.

WARM WIRELETS.

The Virginia and Carolina Coast Railway Company at Norfolk, has awarded its contracts for roadway construction to J. G. White & Co., of New York, and that firm already has a force of men at work on a portion of the contract in North Carolina.

The following dispatch came from Washington last night: Three hundred thousand acres of North Carolina forest land owned by the State, in the swamp region of the Coastal Plain are being examined by two agents of the forest service with a view of determining the suitability of the forest region for profitable forest management by the State.

As a Norfolk and Western passenger train was pulling into the Bluefield, W. Va., yards yesterday, the engine split a switch and was derailed, taking with it four passenger coaches. A panic ensued among the passengers and many were severely hurt. H. D. Baker, of Harrisonburg, Pa., received injuries from which he later died. He was a conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad.

Twelve oath bound cadets of the Virginia Military Institute yesterday purposely remained up town and thereby cut inspection, hoping to be expelled. They took this way of relieving their associates of the third class from uniting with them and leaving the institute. A peculiar pledge binds the boys which they claim cannot be dissolved.

SERIOUS REVOLT AT SEBASTOPOL

Sailors and One Whole Regiment of Troops Lead Revolutionary Movement.

INSURRECTION FORMIDABLE.

Mutineers and Workmen With Military Band at Their Head March Under Red Flag—Revolt Was Deliberately Planned.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Sebastopol, Nov. 25.—The sailors of this port and the Brest regiment have mutinied and joined the workmen who are holding a meeting under the red flag. The city is in a state of panic. The mutineers, carrying red flags and accompanied by a military band, marched to the railway station and compelled the employes to cease work. The sailors yesterday attempted to hold a meeting, and Rear Admiral Pisarevski announced that the meeting would be dispersed by the use of fire arms, whereupon the sailors fired on and wounded the admiral.

Troops Sent to Quell Insurrection.

Odessa, Nov. 25.—8:45 P. M.—Troops have been sent from here to quell the disorders at Sabastopol, which are reported to be increasing. The mutineers have sent the chief admiral a black coffin and have demanded that he leave the town immediately. Railway traffic with Sebastopol is interrupted. The wounds of Admiral Pisarevski who was shot by the mutinous sailors are serious.

Revolt is Formidable.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—In view of the alarming news received to-day of a muntiny at Sebastopol, the proceedings of the Zemstve Congress at Moscow and other developments in the Russian situation paled into insignificance. This formidable revolt in which sailors of the fleet, shore equipages and infantry garrisons are participating appears at the present to be beyond the power of Vice Admiral Choukuin, commander of the Black Sea fleet, to control of the dispatches say nothing of counter measures being taken or of the attitude of the other regiments of the regular garrison.

Officers of the admiralty hope that the mutiny may end like that at Cronstadt, when the sailors after a night of drunken revelry and disturbance, returned to duty, for the most part without compulsion. But the Sebastopol outbreak seems to be on a different scale.

That the outbreak at Sebastopol is no drunken frolic, as was the case at Cronstadt, but a seriously planned revolutionary demonstration, was made clear by the tone of an official statement issued by the admiralty tonight, declaring that the sailors and several units of troops were acting under the direct influence of the socialistic propaganda. The statement follows:

"The events at Cronstadt have found echo in the Black sea fleet. Vice Admiral Chouknin reports that sailors, under the influence of the socialistic propaganda, have organized at Sebastopol a series of demonstrations. The movement has spread to several organizations of the army. Vice Admiral Pisarevski was seriously wounded while trying to prevent a meeting from being held. The situation is serious, though according to a report received at 6:20 o'clock this evening, no attempts had been made to pillage."

Revolt at St. Petersburg.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—Sinister rumors are in circulation of the increasing disaffection in the fourteenth and eighteenth naval battalions at St. Petersburg.

STR. ESPARTA WAS TO BLAME,

Caused Collission With President Roosevelt's Ship at New Orleans.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New Orleans, Nov. 25.—Blame for the collision between the United Fruit steamer Esparta and the United States lighthouse tender Magnolia, while the latter was conveying President Roosevelt from New Orleans to the cruiser West Virgina, was fixed on the Esparta by Captains Kelly and Bean, the local inspectors, to-day. Their reports finds that Captain W. H. Fields, of the Magnolia, did not violate the ruled governing inland waters, and that the Esparta caused the collision by the Esparta's attempting to pass the Magnolia when the Magnolia's red light was in sight and by answering one whistle to the two. The Esparta being a British ship and as Captain P. F. Arroyo was acting as her pilot, the inspectors state they have no jurisdiction over him in connection with the collision.

The damage sustained by the Magnolia has been estimated at $25,000 and the United government, through the district attorney here has already brought suit for that amount. The decision of inspectors Kelly and Bean will figure prominently in the trial of the suit.

RUINED BY MORPHINE TO CURE MALADY

Four Weeks at Greensboro Institute Made a New Man of Him After Being Slave to Drug.

The Keeley Institute, Greensboro, N. C.:

I feel it my duty to my fellow sufferers to let them know what the Keeley Cure has done for me, so they may go and do as I did. I have all my life been an asthmatic. Morphine was given to me for relief, which ended in my contracting the habit. It was my very life—no one except a morphine taker could understand what I suffered. I've taken many so-called "cures without pain," but found them all humbugs. Finally I made up my mind to try the Keeley Cure, as a last resort. It worked wonders on me from the beginning of the treatment. I was at the Institute at Greensboro, N. C., four weeks, and when I left there I was a cured man. That has been four years ago, and I am still a free man, with better health than for years. It was 'most bringing the dead to life. I had been taking the drug regularly for fifteen years. I feel sure if it cured me it can cure anyone. If they will go there with the right spirit, willing to do their part faithfully, there is nothing to compare with the Gold Cure, the very elixer of life. I weighed 143 pounds when I went there, and now weigh 183 pounds. Besides it will be a pleasant stay to be always remembered. I shall ever have the kindest recollections of both the attendants and the boys. Will gladly answer any letters in regard to my case.

People of Wilmington

A PROCLAMATION BY ROBERT R. BELLAMY.

Whereas, the people of our city have been led to purchase so-called remedies from which they have received no benefit whatever, and having thus wasted so much hard-earned money, it has come to pass that they knew not what to believe.

Inasmuch as this unsatisfactory state of affairs now exists, know, therefore, all persons who are in need of a medicine for any of the following ailments, that we will supply them with Vinol, our Cod Liver preparation made without oil, on a positive guarantee that if it does not succeed in benefiting them, we will refund the entire amount of money they have laid out on the medicine.

There is no one medicine that will cure everything, but there are some we know to be honest, reliable and of great curative value. Such is VINOL; it is not a patent or secret medicine,—everything in it is plainly printed on the label. We are familiar with every particle of it, and know that it should be a blessing to all persons who have troubles hereinafter described; and, unlike other medicines, it will cost absolutely nothing if it produces no benefit.

Could any offer be more fair than this? You are ill; we offer you medicine which we believe in our hearts will be a blessing to you, and if it is not we will return to you every penny you paid us. Is there anyone foolish enough not to accept this offer? If you are ill and need such a medicine you owe it to your family, to your friends, and yourself to try VINOL, which we give you our pledge is a genuine Cod Liver preparation made from fresh Cod's Livers.

Do you think we could afford to lend our name to its praises, as we have been doing in the newspapers, if we did not know VINOL to be an honest and unusually valuable remedy for the ills for which it is prescribed? We certainly could not; we therefore ask you, our neighbors, friends and acquaintances, to accept our assurances that this is a genuine offer, and that any and all persons who need a medicine of this character should feel a sense of security in our offer.

All Run Down—No Appetite. If you feel all worn out, have very little appetite, and not much sleep, caused by over-work or sickness, try VINOL on our guarantee.

Debilitated—All Tired Out. Why drag out an existence without life or ambition. It is not natural to feel continually tired. We guarantee VINOL will bring life, strength and vigor to the debilitated. If you do not feel well try VINOL. If it does not help you, your money will be refunded.

Gain Flesh—Get Strong. You can get fat without taking disagreeable Cod Liver Oil. Fat taken into the system does not create fat. We believe VINOL will create flesh quicker than any preparation containing grease. We have proved in many cases that VINOL quickly creates strength. Try it on our guarantee.

Indigestion—Dyspepsia. Only those who actually suffer know its terrors, for them life is robbed of all joy. It produces many serious complications and enfeebles the entire system. Relief only comes when a scientific remedy enables the stomach to properly assimilate food. There is no medicine that will do this so successfully as VINOL. Try it on our guarantee.

Old People—Weak People need a strengthening and invigorating rebuilder. VINOL is of exceptional value in such cases. We guarantee it to give strength and health to those who are weak and debilitated, from disease or old age. Try it on our guarantee.

Pale Women—Pale Children need a tonic-reconstructor that will create flesh and make pure red blood. Pale, haggard faces show that the blood is poor and thin, and also indicates imperfect digestion. VINOL will correct such troubles as sure as the sun shines. Children love VINOL, it is so delicious. Try it on our guarantee.

Bronchitis—Sore Lungs often end fatally unless specially cared for in its early stages. There is no medicine more valuable for restoring health to the throat and lungs than VINOL. Try it on our guarantee.

Nervousness—Irritability. Diseased nerves are due to over-work, insufficient nourishment or slow breaking down of general health. We guarantee VINOL to permanently and effectually remove nerve affections; it actually rebuilds the entire body. Try it on our guarantee.

Chronic Colds—Hacking Cough. Sure signs of danger ahead. One might as well commit suicide as to let them go unchecked. VINOL is the very medicine needed. Unlike other Cod Liver preparations, it does not upset the stomach, and is delicious to the taste. Try it on our guarantee.

Nursing Mothers—Weak Mothers. If women with nursing babies who have difficulty in keeping up their health and strength would take VINOL, we know positively that the best results would be obtained. You know the life and future development of the child depends upon proper nourishment.

We stake our reputation on this offer being genuine. You will absolutely be under no obligation to us whatever, if after you have given VINOL a fair trial for any of the above ailments and have not received any benefit; you have only to tell us so, and we will return the entire amount of money you have paid us.

You see our faith in VINOL, and you must admit that we know something about medicine; therefore, when we tell you that VINOL is the most valuable Cod Liver preparation we have ever known, and a wonderful tonic-reconstructor and rebuilder of strength, appetite and health, at the same time delicious to taste, we are not unreasonable to expect you to believe us.
